

THE MORNING APPEAL.

FRIDAY.....FEBRUARY 21

DELEGATES TO THE NATIONAL CONVENTION.

The National Silver and People's Party Conventions will be held in St. Louis, July 22, to nominate candidates for President and Vice President of the United States, the men whom the toiling masses, the bread winners of the country, will support at the polls next November.

Nevada is entitled to 25 delegates in the National Silver Convention and seven delegates to the People's party Convention. As the two parties in Nevada advocate the same principles and differ only in name, the same persons might represent the State in both conventions, but that, however, is for the others to determine.

In this connection the Reno Journal says:

As times are hard and money scarce will it be advisable for the silver men of Nevada to hold a State convention to elect delegates to St. Louis? Usually conventions called for such a purpose in this State are not well attended and it is not likely, if one is held this year, that it would be an exception to the rule. What then should be done? Would it be satisfactory to have the State Central Committee appoint the delegates? If it would, the County Central Committees might suggest the names of one or more persons from their respective counties who will, if appointed, attend the convention.

If it is likely that more than twenty-five persons will care to incur the expense, and possibly that number will not want to do so. At any rate as a convention will have to be held later in the year to nominate electors, Congressmen, Justice of the Supreme Court and Regents of the State University, it is not advisable to hold one to elect delegates to St. Louis.

The plan suggested by the Journal is a perfectly feasible one and would result in the best possible timber being selected. The County Central Committees know best of all who are the men in their own counties available, and the State Central Committee could make final selections from the names sent to them. The method is short, direct and feasible.

A farmer who sells his hogs for 4 cents and comes to town and pays 16 cents for bacon is the same individual who says the country is going to the demitition boxwows.—Traveler Advocate. "And he is a cousin germane to that other 'farmer' who buys vegetables from a Chinaman because it is cheaper than raising them; who comes to town and buys potatoes, ham, hay, eggs, butter, and condensed milk, and then belly-aches because he 'can't make a living no how.'—Bakersfield Californian

He is also closely related to the man who wonders why he can't get decent prices for his products, and continues to vote for the gold standard thieves.

A few months ago Judge Miller, Second Vice President of the Union made a silver speech in western New York, and upon his return said: "The ignorance of the people on the question of bimetalism is astonishing. The farmer of Western New York, as elsewhere, is losing their farms, but do not understand why." That seed was sown in fruitful soil. Today we are receiving more calls for literature from western New York than any other part of this great nation.—National Bimetallist.

The move of the Silver Senators in voting against the tariff legislation because Silver was not properly considered, is already alarming the Republican press. They state it is hurting the cause of silver. If this were really so they would of course make no outcry. The shoe is beginning to pinch and they don't like the retaliation now being measured out to them. Keep up your lick Jones and Stewart.

A Queer Story.

Miller, the butler in San Francisco who is the hero of so many burglar fights, is threatened with a fall from his pedestal.

It is said that Miller's mind is affected by the frequent attacks of epilepsy to which he is subject. In his peculiar mental state he has become a crank upon the subject of burglars. Doubt is cast upon the story of Miller's adventure with a burglar about a year ago, and it is said that there is evidence pointing to the conclusion that Miller may have lured the tramp into the house for the purpose of making capital with his employer, or more probably was acting under the influences of an insane delusion.

The District Court will open this afternoon at 2 o'clock.
